THE WILDCAT

...The story of how a country school went to town...

As graduation draws near, we look back over the years and remember the happenings which are all a part of Mars Hill High School and of us--the Senior Class. We are conscious of the many advantages that were made possible by our parents and all others who sacrificed to make these opportunities possible. Through these pages we have tried to present a glimpse of some of the changes that have helped to make our school days the happiest time of our lives. We realize our work and pleasures here will soon end. Although we shall be entering many different vocations, we shall hold our everlasting friendships and numerous experiences dear to our hearts. We hope these glimpses will weave the spirit of our school into a memory you will always cherish.

Frog Level Church

The log building presented in this annual -- Frog Level School and Church -- was one of the first schoolhouses to be built in Madison County; Dr. John Baird was one of the first physcians to serve what is now the Mars Hill School District; the "Old Highway" is representative of our first mountain roads; and "Early Dental Service" reminds us of the progress that has been made in the field of dentistry.

PROGRESS

To those who chose the path we lead . . .

To the pioneers who have paved the way for religious training and educational opportunities;

To the parents who have made the many sacrifices that we may further our education;

To the educational leaders, who through the years, have brought about many educational advancements;

And to others who have helped promote our educational advantages, who have given us the many comforts of our everyday life, and who have worked for the betterment of youth

ALMA MATER

'Neath Bailey's lofty mountain,
Underneath the southern blue;
Stands our dear ole high school,
Noble, grand, and true.

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater.
Hail to red and white.
Loyalty to thee we pledge,
Dear ole Mars Hill High.

CLASS HISTORY

"Let me begin with what I remember quite clearly"--the many wonderful happenings of the school days of our class of '55. Through these years we have developed clearer evaluations and have found our school days exciting, adventurous, and memorable.

The constant trudge to classes was enjoyed by many interested classmates, but the time was idly wasted by others. Exciting moments appeared to us as we adventured into new studies each year; as we attended class meetings, selected class rings, went to movies, enjoyed picnics, and planned for and attended the most outstanding event of our Junior year, the Junior-Senior banquet. At seven thirty o'clock on April 22, we made our way to Coyte Bridges Dining Hall at Mars Hill College. The hall was beautifully decorated with red, black, and white presenting to us the French theme. Dr. R. L. Holt, our guest speaker, made an inspiring talk on "What the Future Has in Store For Us."

As our annual goes to press we look forward with anticipation to our last Senior activities; such as, the time when we shall be the guests at the Junior-Senior banquet, our Senior play, our trip to Washington, our Class Night, and our Commencement exercises.

We become sad when we think of leaving Mars Hill High School and the many friends we have made. Among these friends are our sponsors who have guided us thus far along the pathway. Our sincerest thanks go to the following teachers, who have served as sponsors: Mrs. Moyers, Mrs. Sams, Mrs. Rice, Mr. Shepherd, Miss Haynes, Mr. Wallin, and Mrs. Sprinkle.

Much of the burden of leadership has also rested upon the shoulders of our class officers. Sammy Reese served as President during our Sophomore and Junior years, and Clifford Ponder guided us during our Freshman and Senior years. They were assisted by Tommy Hill, Frederick Anderson, Shelby Buckner, Frances Anderson, Josephine Burleson, Toni Carter, Donald Fox, Vivian Briggs, and Lynwood Hill.

Now that we are reaching our goal, we realize that we were encouraged by our parents as well as by our teachers and our classmates. Their inspiration and constant support has helped prepare us to be the leaders of tomorrow.
